

BACH attends an Equine Evening put on by the Brazos Extension Horse Committee

Feb 11th, 2025

Equine Evening took place in the “new” Brazos County Extension office on the east side of Bryan. BACH had a table for the event put on by the Brazos Extension Horse Committee to answer questions about the club and perhaps entice a new member or two. The evening consisted of four speakers, each giving a fairly rapid-fire delivery of their subject: Equine Insurance, Saddle Fitting, Equine Massage Therapy and Equine Vital Signs and their Meaning. It is a good format. Each talk is long enough to cover the subject but it keeps the speaker on point (mostly).

A big thanks to Bess Bruton who brought the candy and the table cloth and manned the table. Other members that attended: Donna Meyer, Jinny Johnson, Amy Raines and Karin Loftin.

As usual, there was food and drinks beforehand and the talks were interesting. We had a chance to catch up with some of our horse friends who are not necessarily members of BACH. It was nice to get to visit.
